

VOGUE FASHIONS... Perfect for the fluid fashion look is this amber, paisley, matte jersey falling easily into a pleated circle with a softly belted overblouse.

Vogue Fashion-Fabric Show at May Co. Monday

"Bright Lights Ahead" is the theme of the May Company South Bay annual fall Vogue Fashion-Fabric Show to be held on Monday, Sept. 19, at 2 and 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Thirty-six striking, new day and evening styles are to be shown by May Co. Brilliant colors will keynote the show and the designs of these fashions herald such names as Christian Dior, Nina Ricci, Gres, Michael of England, Fabiani and Simonetta of Italy, Jacques Griffe, and Rodriguez of Spain, as well as Vogue Patterns own American designers.

Popular this season are suit-dress styles. Among these suit-dress fashions to be shown is a mauve and purple ensemble in Anglo's-petit point wool, which highlights the cover of the Vogue Fall Pattern Book.

The show features a three-piece fall costume. Topping off the beige skirt-blouse outfit, is a seven eighths length reversible coat. Suits can be relaxed as Simonetta of Italy shows via Vogue.

The relaxed silhouette is the by-word of this season's fashions. Skirts have a gentle ease to them. Relaxing in this group is a two-piece dress with a full skirt falling from a hip yoke and a loose overblouse. This ensemble is shown in a rich, amber toned, matte jersey paisley print.

Why not? Fake furs are getting a big play this season. Play clothes as well as after-five get a touch of synthetic fur. A real smash is the Holland suede storm cape with its wild, fake fur lining. Also included are the wonderful new fake leopards.

Seen will be Nina Ricci designs for fun after five. Her creamy colored scoop-necked sheath is topped with a cream puff on a cropped jacket.

Eggplant and cerise is the color of Simonetta's scissor front skirt in a striking cotton satin print.

Splashes of blazing color are captured on opulent fabrics for fall 1960's late-day and big-date fashions. The vivid fall color combination is featured in a golden silk blouse tucked into a fiery pink, wool skirt. A stunning effect is seen in the cream and gold brocade two piece over blouse dress.

A grey-white oyster and black lace is highlighted by a brilliant pink; other fashions are depicted in semi-precious stone hues. The show stopper is sizzling red peau de soie with a white bodice covered with sequined red lace.

Commentator for the show will be Mrs. Paulino DeLano. These fabrics and patterns will be available in the May Company fashion yardage and pattern departments.

Ann Landers

Whenever one of our kids has a run-in with a playmate, my wife sticks her nose into it. She has gone to the parents of several youngsters "to straighten out matters" and then she's gotten into a fight with the adults.

The kids make up the next day, but my wife is on bad terms with half the neighborhood. Please advise me.

—M.M.O.

Dear M.M.O.: A mother who becomes involved in the petty squabbles of her children is more childish than the kids.

Only under extraordinary circumstances should one parent go to another, and then the meeting should be private or it becomes an extension of the kids' fight. Ask your wife to please wait until you get home before she "does anything." By then the trouble will have been settled—by the kids.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) Copy, 1960, Field Enterprises, Inc.
